FAKE TRUTH

Special Edition Photographs

ALISON JACKSON

Carola Syz Projects is delighted to present Fake Truth, an exhibition showcasing the photography of Alison Jackson. This is a special edition of photographs.

Jackson's work invites us to reconsider our obsession with celebrity culture, exploring how we often feel a personal connection to public figures we've never met. Her images provoke thought about the persuasive power of visuals, voyeurism, and our tendency to unquestioningly accept what we see—especially through the lens of photography.

A BAFTA-winning artist, photographer, and filmmaker, Alison Jackson is renowned for her bold investigation into the intersection of fame, media, and illusion. Her art plays on the fine line between reality and fantasy, using intricately styled lookalikes to depict celebrities in imagined private moments. These strikingly realistic photographs, films, and sculptures challenge our perceptions of what is real and what is constructed.

Alongside her work with lookalikes, Jackson has also captured portraits of actual celebrities, actors, and political figures. Many of her works are housed in prominent collections, including the National Portrait Gallery, The Parliamentary Art Collection in London, and SF MOMA. Through her art, Jackson pushes viewers to rethink their understanding of both fame, fakery and reality.

In 2019 Jackson founded and launched a photography competition called A Day in Your Life, aimed at discovering young talent and budding photographers, from disadvantaged, minority backgrounds. Jackson mentors young people and is a member of the Alumni Council for The Royal College of Art and Ambassador for the Kensington and Chelsea Foundation. Jackson supports a number of charities, including MacMillan Cancer Support, Marie-Curie and many others.
